DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-4, 6-17, 19-24 and 26-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Krueger in view of Tobinaga et al. Krueger discloses an electronic engine control system for ignition and fuel injection in a rope-start engine without a battery which may be used in a snowmobile but does not determine reverse running and disable the firing sequence in a two stroke engine. Tobinaga et al teaches that it is known to determine reverse running and disable the firing sequence in a two stroke engine. Rotational position is determined as set forth at column 5, lines 56-61. Two indexing markers are inherently required for this determination. Reverse running determination and disabling of the firing sequence is described at column 16, lines 23-43. This inherently requires a third indexing marker. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the electronic engine control system of Krueger for use in a two stroke engine and to include a reverse running disabling feature, as taught by Tobinaga et al, in order to provide an operative engine and to prevent damage to the engine.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 5, 18, 25 and 39 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Prior Art

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Ishigami discloses an engine controller for a two stroke engine which prevents reverse running.
